Art & Design Professional Development Day – Sculpture Focus

Carousel Education offer one day in-school staff training INSET days. For the sculpture focus, this is primarily a creative activity day focusing on a range of different sculpture techniques. In addition to the practical activities, the trainer will provide a brief overview of what a high-quality Art & Design curriculum looks like and how schools can prepare their curriculum for inspection. Schools design their bespoke INSET day by choosing 4 of the modules below:

Kandinsky Paper Sculpture

Using the work of the 'father of abstract art' Wassily Kandinsky as inspiration, staff create their own paper sculptures. In doing so they learn about abstract art and some famous abstract works of art.

Clay-bas relief tile

Creating ceramic relief tiles is an activity that can be applied to many areas of the curriculum. In this activity staff create and decorate a clay tile using a range of ceramic techniques.

Picasso Guitar

Staff create their own cardboard cubist sculpture of a guitar in the style of Pablo Picasso. As part of the creative process, staff learn different techniques to join sheet materials to create a sculpture.

Blossom Pot

Creating a ceramic decorated pot using the slab method of construction. This is an opportunity for staff to deepen their understanding of ceramics and some of the key techniques.

Assemblage sculpture

In learning about the different types of sculpture, staff have the opportunity to create a sculpture in the style of the abstract artist, Piet Mondrian.

Modigliani sculpture

Amedeo Modigliani is famous for his 'long-faced portraiture', staff use this as a stimulus to create a sculpture using an armature and papier mâché techniques.

Pinch Pots

Pinch pots are a simple way to create hand-made pottery. Staff create a simple pinch pot then add details to create an animal-themed bowl.
